DEVERY OFFERS REPARATION FOR THE

PHYSICIAN'S TREATMENT. Ex-Dean of Vermont University and His Wife Were Hustled to Headquarters in a Street Car, Herded With Criminals and Pointed Out as Crooks Charges May Result.

Dr. Ashbell P. Grinnell of Burlington, Vt., former dean of the medical department of the University of Vermont, who was artested on Friday morning on the charge of swindling Edward Weston of Newark out of $60 and a few hours later discharged in Jefferson Market police court at the request of Weston's attorney, called upon Deputy oner Devery at Police Headquarters yesterday morning, at the Deputy Compner's request. Dr. Grinnell was accompanied by his attorney, former Senator Thomas C. O'Sullivan. According to Dr. Grinnell, Deputy Commissioner Devery said to him in substance: "I have asked you to call. Doctor, that I may tell you that I feel sure you and your wife were subjected to unnecessary humiliation and indignity through your arrest. On behalf of the Police Department I want to apologize to you and to say that the Central Moe detective who arrested you greatly exceeded his authority. If you see fit to prefer charges against him. I assure you that they will not only be entertained but if proved, proper punishment will be inflicted.

"What more could I ask?" Dr. Grinnell said. "It now remains with me whether the detective shall or shall not be proceeded said. "It now remains with me whether the detective shell or shall not be proceeded against. That's a subject which I am considering. As I have made up my mind to stay here at the Hotel Manhattan until my wife is much better than she is now. I'll have time to decide what is best to do. I shall determine my action, however, within a short time. I want to say, however, that I was treated with every possible courtesy by Deputy Commissioner Devery and I thoroughly appreciate it after the rough treatment I received at the hands of his subordinate.

"I haven't permitted my wife to waik ten feet, hardly, in two years. When I requested the detective, McConville, to permit me to call a carriage at my own expense, he told me he guessed a street car was good enough for me. At Police Headquarers we were taken downstairs in the basement and compelled to remain in the company of a filthy lot of criminals who were waiting to be taken to court. When my wife asked permission to call a messenger at her own expense, that she might send word of our predicament to some of our friends, McConville said:

"You can't get any messenger here. You'll get all that's coming to you later."

"Than we were pointed out to a lot of men, presumably detectives, who were told to take a good look at us so that they'd know us again. Besides all that, one captor, as he stepped out of the room for a moment, told a man to keep his eye on my wife, as she was one of 'em. While we were in that hall somebody snapped a camera and my wife, who is a sufferer from heart trouble, was nearly thrown into convulsions at the thought of having had her picture taken. Finally we were dragged to court and, I am told, discharged."

The of inheritime to order a cab, Mr when I told the Chlef about McConville's refusal to permit me to order a cab, Mr feature of his interview with Devery. Here it is:

"When I told the Chief about McConville's refusal to permit me to order a cab. Mr Devery said: 'Doctor, if all you say is true, there is no doubt that the detective exceeded his authority, but he was right about the cab Remember, you were arrested for a felony. The detective had no means of knowing that the money with which you would pay for the cab was not a part of the money you were accused of stealing, and had he permitted you to call a cab he would have been compounding a felony.' I now appreciate this fine point in the law and see that the detective could not have done anything else than he did."

"Do? What can I do? I don't want his money, because what amount of money would satisfy the injury to my wife's feel-ings? However, I haven't considered that ings? However, I haven't considered that question yet."

Deputy Commissioner Devery's versoin of his interview with the doctor was:
"Dr. Grinnell called on me this morning. I told him if he wanted to prefer charges against any member of this department they would be promptly entertained. No police officer must insult or treat with discourtesy any citizen, and this is particularly true of the men attached to the Detective Bureau."

IMMIGRATION INTO CUBA.

The Most of It Is From Spain - Vastly Improved

WASHINGTON, March 23 .- From the official reports of Marine Hospital surgeons stationed in Cuba, it appears that a large and steady influx of aliens desiring to take up a residence in the Island has set in. The greater number of aliens enter through the port of Havana, where nearly all the transatiantic iners arrive, and it is regarded as significant that the bulk of immigration is from Spain, where people are now as eager to go to Cuba as they were to get away from the island three years ago. During the first week of March 725 alien steerage passengers applied for admission at Havana, and of these 277 were from Spain, 584 from Porto Rico, Canary Islands and St. Nazaire, 18 from New York, 32 from Central America and the others from points in the Southern part of the United

The arrivals at Havana in February were also large, the total being 1,341, of which by far the greater number were from Spain. In the first week of March there were three arrivals from Spain at Matanzas, and in the last week of February twenty-nine at Santiago. The whole number of immigrants arriving at Santiago in February was 118, all of whom were passed by the health officers.

In reporting these facts the Marine Hospital authorities describe in some detail the vastly improved sanitary conditions prevailing in Havana, Santiago and other Cuban cities. Havana is now pronounced to be one of the most healthful cities in the world.

The death rate in that city last month was 19.32 per 1,000, which is far lower than the usual rate in Washington, D. C., and a good deal lower than in New York. Santiago, which was a hotbed of disease three years ago, had a death rate of only 20 5 last year. the population being 43,000 In Guantanamo, in southern Cuba, where fatal sickness raged in southern Cuba, where fatal sickness raged before and during the Spanish war, the death rate last month was only 5.7?

Major W C Gorgas, U S A, chief sanitary officer of Havana, writes that the deaths there last month were very much fewer than in any February of which we have any reliable record, the minimum being that of 1893, when there were 446 deaths, and the maximum that of 1898, when there were 1,602 deaths

They found that in their absence two men had left another bundle in charge of Stillman's fourteen-year-old son, who had taken it to Jacob Butterman of 118 Chrystie street and had received $10 for it. The boy took them to Chrystie street and pointed out Butterman and the bundle. Butterman was arrested and the ten dozen night shirts which the bundle contained were seized. The boy was allowed to return home to take care of his younger brothers and sisters.

ANTI-TRUST TARIFF THREAT.

Representative Babcock Declares War on Steel. Plate Glass and Tin Monopolies. WASHINGTON, March 23.-Representative Babcock, of Wisconsin, says that he intends to reintroduce his bill early in the next Congress providing for the removal of tariff duties on steel, in order to destroy the monopoly on steel, in order to destroy the inonopoly created by the Steel Trust. He proposes to go even further than this by making amendments to repeal the tariff on tin and plate glass, for a similar purpose. Mr. Babecck explains that he will not object if the whole question of the tariff comes up for debate, for he sees no reason why the present ta if law should be forever regarded as a perfect statute. In fact, he believes that some radical changes in the tariff ought to be made in the near future.

FOR THE PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION 20-Foot Map of the World, With Models De

acriptive of Our Navy.

WASHINGTON, March 28 .- Probably one of the most interesting and instructive exhibits to persons interested in naval affairs, that will be shown in the Government building at the Pan-American Exposition to be held at Buffalo during the coming summer consists of a great 8 by 20-foot map of the world on which will be designated in arge legible letters, the names and location of the principal maritime ports of the world. and of the United States navy yards and stations at home and abroad. This map is drawn on white canvas, the various divisions of land and water are appropriately colored, and the exposed surface treated to several of land and water are appropriately colored, and the exposed surface treated to several coats of transparent varnish, the whole being mounted on linoleum to prevent the canvass from buckling, which would otherwise likely occur because of atmospheric changes. Thus prepared, the map will be placed on what might be designated a billiard table, enlarged twofold in length and breadth, especially designed for the purpose.

The map will be placed 307 miniature lead models, each representing a battle-ship, cruiser, monitor, gunboat, torpedo boat, submarine boat, sailing vessel, collier or tug of the United States Navy, in commission, in ordinary, under repairs or under construction. The models of cruising vessels will be painted white, the torpedo boats green, the colliers and sailing vessels black and the tugs and yard boats orange. The largest of the models is not more than an inch and a half in length. The position of each model upon the map will show the location each day of the corresponding vessels of the navy. Each model will fly a pennant with its name printed on it in bold type. The display of a tiny flag on the model will signify that the corresponding vessel of the navy is in commission for service, and when no flag is displayed it will signify that the corresponding vessel of the navy is in commission for service, and when no redinary, under repairs or under construction.

This exhibit will be a twentieth century kindergarten lesson descriptive of the navy as it is to-day, and to those persons who have not had an opportunity to visit our various navy vards or to see our squadrons manusured, a glance at it will probably give a more accurate idea of the composition of our navy than could be had in any other way.

GIRLS' HIGH SCHOOL IN TUTUILA.

on Feb. 28. WASHINGTON, March 28 -- Assistant Secreary Hackett has received from Lieutenant Commander Dorn, U. S. N., commanding the naval station at Tutuila in the absence of Commander Tilley, a letter dated Feb. 28, reporting the ceremonies of the opening of a high school for girls at Autoloma, in the western district of Tutulla. This is the first school for girls established within the limits of the United States neval station. It is medelled on the plan of the school near Apia, both being conducted by the London Mission Society Two women are in charge, and 100 pupils are accommodated. They are selected by the native pustors of the several villages of the three islands. There were far more applicants than can be accommodated. The coinse will include instruction in English, history of the United States, sewing, household duties, &c., and extends over a term of four years. The school building is in a beautiful valley on the south side of Tutuila. It was built by general subscription, the natives of Tutulla and Manua having contributed about $8,000 in money, or in its equivalent in copra. Besides this amount, the natives gave their time and labor gratuitously in grading and doing other work, including carpentering. Two hundred persons attended the opening exercises, including the native Governors of Tutuila, and a representative of the Governor of Manua From this latter island, a party of about 100 came in boats. After religious services the financial statement was read and audresses were made by the commandand 100 pupils are accomodated. The distribution included t20 roasted pigs, 12 kers of beef, 1,500 taro, and a large amount of fish, bread, &c. That this latter feature was popular is attested by the fact that 500 were present.

Among Them Were Senators Hawler and Depew Gen. E. V. Sumner and W. W. Goodrich.

Washington, March 23 -Senator Hawley of Connecticut and Gen. E. V. Sumner of the army called on President McKinley to-day to ask that the General's son, Edwin V. Sumner, be appointed to a cadetship at West Point. The Senator said that there had been Sumners in the army ever since 1775. The President will appoint the young man when there is a vacancy for him to fill.

Senator Depew, accompanied by Gen. William H. Seward and Gordan W. Allen of New York, called on the President to urge the appointment of Fred J. Allen of Auburn to be Commissioner of Patents. Gordan W. Allen is the candidate's father. President McKinley did not positively say that he would appoint Mr. Allen, but it is believed that this will be the outcome of the contest for the place.

JOSEF HOFMANN

and orders one of these instruments for his own use.

New York, March 20, 1901.

The Aeolian Co., 18 W. 23d St., Ctty.

Gentlemen:

I am completely won over to the vast possibilities of the Pianola, which I have seen to-day for the first time. You can take my order for an ebony Pianola, to be delivered as soon as you can to my apartment in the Gilsey House, to be attached to my Grand Piano, and later to be sent to Berlin.

I anticipate much pleasure from learning to play this exceedingly ingenious device which reproduces with such astonishing accuracy the masterworks of music. Very truly.

JOSEF HOFMANN.

O the endorsement of the Pianola by Paderewski, Sauer, Rosenthal, De Pachmann, Moszkowski, and others is now added that of Josef Hofmann.

HERE is no instrument in the history of music which has attracted so much attention as the Pianola. It has won its way in the face of the universal opposition of musicians to their universal approval.

T has revolutionized formerly accepted pianistic standards, and has made possible that which was considered impossible, namely, artistic piano playing, irrespective of musical training, with the expression still regulated by the player.

HB Pianola performs that part of the playing which was formerly allotted to the human fingers.

HE popularity of the Planola in the home is evidence of the promptness with which its value has been appreciated by the general public. Thousands of piano owners have increased the usefulness of their pianos a hundred fold and have added to their own pleasure, by simply increasing their repertory through the aid of the Pianola.

F you are the owner of a plane, the "Pianola question" is a personal one, and you should, therefore, personally investigate this much discussed instrument. Visitors welcome.

The Pianola being placed in position to play upright plane. The Planela does not injure the plano in any way. Its felt-covered fingers rest upon the plano keys and strike the notes in the proper relation one to another as indicated on the musicsheet. With its aid any member of your household may play upon the piane even if he or she literally does not know one note from another-not only one or two selections, but every piece of music ever written for the plano-forte. Grand and light operas, Lizst's Rhapsodies, Sousa's marches, and the latest rag-time hits are practically "on your fingers' ends." You have all the pleasure of band playing because you control the expression, which is the soul of music. Estimate for your self the profit and pleasure the Plancia would bring you in a single year.

PRICE $250. Can be bought by moderate monthly payments if desired.
